

The Puff Puff Network is brought to you by Dogpatch Media, a small team of dedicated developers, designers and activist who specialize in creating, managing and monetizing cannabis related communities and web sites. Dogpatch Media are the people behind the popular cannabis dispensary review site WeedTRACKER dot com and the cannabis dispensary coupon mailing list CouponsForWeed dot com, both of which were sold to Crowdfather Inc. in 2015.

When we created WeedTRACKER it was a first of its kind site. A community where medical cannabis patients could come together to discuss their problems and organize to protest local governments anti-medical cannabis positions.

And now with the creation of the Puff Puff Network, we have once again created a unique first of its kind experience. Now anybody who smokes cannabis for any reason can join a community where they can share their love of cannabis with the world and earn money while doing it.

The Puff Puff Network will consist of multiple sites. We are creating multiple sites so that our networks token has real world use. A token without any place to be used is useless.

The network will consist of as many sites as the community decides it wants to support. We currently have plans to create a network of ten sites, five of which we create, and five of which the community decides what to create. We already have the first three network sites already in development. People who subscribe to our mailing list will get an invite to test the new sites as soon as they are ready.

Here is an overview of the first three sites of the Puff Puff Network:

PUFF PUFF PASSOUT

PuffPuffPassOut.com will be a photo and video sharing site similar to Instagram, with a focus on cannabis related photos and videos.

New Puff Puff Passout community members will be given 100 WeedBits tokens (XWB) when they signup. The community at large will be able to reward other members contributions by awarding WeedBits when a picture or video is "liked."

Project Highlights

- * Photo & Video Sharing
  - * Photo & Video Filters for Uploads
  - * Picture & Video Comments
  - * WeedBits token (XWB) integration (deposit / withdrawl / spend)
  - * One Hundred (100) WeedBits for Every New Community Member
  - * Ten Million (10,000,000) WeedBits Allocated for all new Community Members

PUFF PUFF CHOW DOWN

PuffPuffChowDown.com will be a cannabis recipe, food photo sharing and cooking discussion site, with a focus on cannabis infused recipies.

New Puff Puff Chow Down community members will be given 100 WeedBits tokens (XWB) when they signup. The community at large will be able to reward other members contributions by awarding WeedBits when a recipe is "liked."

FUTURE PUFF PUFF SITES

Puff Puff Network tokens will be used as a voting instrument in a future smart contract that will allow token holders to decide what new network sites we create.

The token holding community will be asked to suggest possible new sites for the network via a community forum and suggestions from the forum will then be voted on through the aforementioned future smart contract or other method.

Winning proposals for new sites will then be created and added to the network.

This timeline represents the plan for how the Puff Puff Network is going to evolve over the next two years. This may be an ambitious plan, but we are going to stick to it. Its out roadmap and were following its directions.
So here goes..

We are going to start with an initial launch of three sites, six months after the close of the token pre-sale.

Once those sites are launched we will immediately begin work on site number four and number five, both to be launched three months apart. After the launch of site number five we will begin discussing with the user community what types of sites they would like to see added to the network next.

Once we have a consensus on the types of sites the community wants to have added to the network, we will open up a smart contract to allow voting on which sites are actually created.

Winning sites will be added at three month intervals until all the sites of the network are completed.

DISTRIBUTION

The Puff Puff Network Token distribution plan is to distribute tokens as fairly as possible to as many network users as possible so everybody who joins a network site can easily and immediately participate in network activities.

Across the network of 10 (ten) sites, we will distribute 100,000,000 (one hundred million) tokens, or 50% (fifty percent) of the total token supply. The distribution of tokens though the sites will be done by giving 100 (one hundred) tokens to the first 100,000 (one hundred thousand) new members on each site in the network. Our goal is 1,000,000 (one million) users across the network of 10 (ten) sites.

Providing tokens to new site members is ideal to make instant participation possible. If its not easy for them to participate immediately they wont participate at all.

The second distribution method will be through crowdsale. A total of 50,000,000 (fifty million) tokens, or 25% (twenty-five percent) of the total token supply.

And finally, 50,000,000 (fifty million) tokens, or 25% (twenty-five percent) of the total supply, will be held in reserve by Dogpatch Media to fund future development and expansion of the network.
